Experienced people make all the difference when adopting EPM. Working with the right people should be at the top of your list when considering your EPM deployment. Consider the information that people will require and the skills & experience that they will need to possess. You should also consider the various roles in your EPM environment and ensure that information and training is role-based and tailored to the appropriate people.

Effective EPM Consultancy

We can offer you a range of consultancy services to aid your people in understanding EPM and how it can benefit your organisation. Our approach is based upon experience and a thorough understanding of best practice to make EPM work for you.

Our EPM Envisioning Workshop helps you appreciate the benefits and implications of EPM and helps you identify the best solution for your circumstances. Conducted over a single day, our workshop provides a no-nonsense and value for money introduction to Enterprise Project Management. Consequently you will be in a much better position to realise EPM's benefits and to also fully appreciate the implications EPM can have for your business.

Roles and responsibilities are also crucial in an EPM deployment. We can assist you in identifying who-does-what and how projects and programmes are influenced across the enterprise by different people and how those people need to collaborate and communicate with each other.
